Key Messages and Talking Points

Key Messages

Key messages are the main points of information you want your audience to hear, understand, and remember. They are bite-sized summations that articulate what you do, why you do it, how you are different, and what value you bring to stakeholders. A good message is concise, strategic, relevant, compelling, simple, memorable, real, and tailored.

Why vote matters

- Voting gives us the opportunity to elect the leader that we think will do the best job. So go vote when polling starts in your ward.
- Voting raises our voice and gives us the opportunity to impact the issues that we care about.
- By exercising our constitutional right and civic duty we are able to make a difference and have our say.
- Voting is important because it connects us to our community and shows that we care about it.

Before polling

- Evaluate parties/candidates carefully before deciding who to vote for.
- Do not be misled by anyone: carefully make your own choice without being influenced.
- Do not bribe or get bribed you could get arrested.
- No one has the right to influence your decision to vote for a candidate of your choice.
- Your vote is very important, don't sell it, vote for the party or candidate of your choice.

Voting

- The polling period commences on 2 July 2022, contact your Provincial Electoral Office for information on the exact polling date for your ward.
- On polling day there will be gender split streams for men and women.
- Elderly people, pregnant women, people with children and people with disabilities will be ushered into the polling booth first.
- When you are at the polling booth and if you are in doubt always ask the Polling Officer for assistance.
- With Limited Preferential Voting you are required to vote for your 1st, 2nd and 3rd choice. Write the code or the name of the your first choice candidate beside number 1, write the code or the name of the your second choice candidate beside number 2, write the code or the name of the your third choice candidate beside number 3. Do not put any other mark on the ballot paper.

Voting (cont'd)

- For a ballot paper to be accepted as formal, it must be marked with the candidates' code numbers in the brackets provided beside numbers '1', '2', and '3' or have the candidates' names written on the lines provided clearly indicating the voter's three preferences; and must be signed/initialed at the back by the Presiding Officer.
- A ballot paper is informal if it is:
 - a) A ballot paper that has numbers 1,2 & 3 and does not have the candidates' code numbers or names.
 - b) A ballot paper marked with candidates' code numbers and names and not signed by the Presiding Officer; and
 - c) A ballot paper marked with crosses or ticks.
- Voting takes place in the open, but your choice is made in secret and should remain so.
- You will not be allowed to vote if your name is not on the electoral roll.
- You must not vote for another person; you must not vote twice; this is a legal offence and can lead to arrest and prosecution.
- Low literate voters, blind voters or voters with disabilities can be assisted by a relative or a friend, to complete the ballot paper correctly.
- Disability does not disqualify a voter from exercising their right to vote.

Counting

- Check the PNGEC Facebook page and website for regular updates on election results. Do not venture out on the streets. Keep yourself and others safe.
- Distribution of preferences is a process of distributing or allocating the ballot papers to the candidates according to the preferences marked.
- Absolute majority: An absolute majority is defined as half of the total formal votes plus one (50%+1) that a candidate must receive at the conclusion of any one count to be declared a winner.
- Exclusion or elimination process: Is a process whereby a candidate with the lowest number of votes is removed from the count.

Tips for Implementing Awareness at the Provincial Level

Ways to Improve the Success of Awareness and Outreach

- Bring awareness to where community members are already assembling such as where there is already a captive audience such as before a church congregation, haus pikas, health clinics, public transport, or community meetings
- Host information hubs at large events such as markets, universities, and settlements to create opportunities for important one-to-one conversations with voters
- Leverage existing platforms and partner programs to infuse PNGEC approved key messages into their outreach activities
- Create opportunities for personal social contact using covid-safe guidelines to remind people of their civic duties and inspire them to enrol
- Train community leaders and provincial stakeholders to reach out to people in the community and mobilize them to enrol to vote because people are likelier to listen to people they know and trust

Your office

- Print and display the posters/fliers in public areas such as notice boards
- Email e-copies of the posters/fliers to your contact database
- Circulate the digital posters to your contacts via WhatsApp groups (or other platforms)

Community outreach

- Print posters and paste in public places that generate a lot of foot traffic such as major trade stores, marketplaces, bus stops and public notice boards, schools, institutions etc.
- Print posters and provide them to health clinics and community health posts so they can put the up information in public areas.
- Organize community awareness sessions with CSOs, FBOs, DPOs and public servants
- Host an awareness session for local community leaders

- Encourage youth to use the hashtag #YouthVote2022 when they post about electoral events.
- Engage local youth organizations and trusted youth leaders to co-host awareness sessions and disseminate awareness materials
- Partner with local youth organizations and youth leaders in a view to using them as youth mobilizers in your province
- Contact the Youth group leaders to spread the message amongst their networks.
- Host sessions with them to teach them about the process so they become a reference point for their networks.

- Liaising with organizations that work with persons with disabilities, their caregivers and other relevant Government institutions to mobilize and disseminate awareness materials.

Women

Media

Hold a briefing for local media in the province regarding voting.

Planning your session

Each awareness session should be of approximately 60 minutes duration (excluding set up time).

Before the session(s), discuss suitable times, dates and locations with the local representatives. Be mindful that different members of the community have different responsibilities at different times of the day (e.g. employment, family, household responsibilities). A minimum of two sessions (to be held at different times) are planned for each ward to provide the greatest opportunity for all members of the community to participate. The session should take place in a public building or space which is accessible to all the people in the ward or in an outdoor location if covid-safe guidelines require. Space should be set aside for the elderly or people with disabilities to be seated comfortably during the session. Covid-safe guidelines should be always observed, including the number of people that can gather in a space and the personal protective equipment that should be worn.

A notice should be displayed on the ward notice board to advise the public when the awareness session is scheduled. Community leaders should also be notified so that they can alert people on this awareness sessions.

Play the PSAs, music mixtape or stingers on loud hailer before the session to generate interest.

During the presentation, show the posters and ensure these are displayed in a prominent place in the ward for later reference.
